5 Georgia Am was improved again last time out and was not far from second place. Quick off the mark and likely to be loaded - our pick. 2 Lord Horse competed in several V75 races last year and didn't embarrass himself. Unclear form after galloping in his seasonal debut. 3 Jaguar Hill is good enough to win a race like this on his best days. Returning from a break and the post position is suitable behind the gate. 9 Ian B.R. decisively won on Jarlsberg two starts back. Should get a nice defensive journey here.

11 Navy Zon won easily from fourth outside last time with a 12.5/800 m final sprint. Not much tougher now - reasonable chance. 14 Oaktree Oliwer delivered some fine performances last fall. He hasn't raced for three months, but should be considered right away. 3 Buxton is not entirely straightforward, but he has pretty good speeds for the class and the position is favorable. Could go a long way. 4 Fade Into Darkness has responded with a couple of positive finishes lately. Should be seen as a dark horse here.

3 Picobello showed a solid effort of 1.14/800m from far back in the last run, and we have a feeling that his first win is coming soon. He is entered with shoes off all around this time. 10 Erjon is making his first start of the year. We believe he has more to offer than what he showed as a three-year-old - he should be watched closely. 2 Ayreon has looked slightly improved lately and got a favorable starting position this time. He is one of several outsiders in this open race. 1 Mindy Boko caused an upset win in her seasonal debut last time out. She shouldn't be overlooked if she handles this number.

14 Jeannica is the best horse in this field in our opinion. She won impressively in her comeback race. If she can solve the tough draw in time, she has a good chance of winning.

4 Victory Venus has had a decent start to her career. She got locked in last time out with some energy left, and her first win should come soon.

3 Billie Jean P.C. has two races under her belt after a break, and she is now registered to race without shoes - worth watching.

12 Edionora can be a bit inconsistent in her performances, but if she has a good day, she can be competitive in this race.

12 Bold Knick has found his stride and comes with two straight wins. Gives a strong impression and should be seen with a good chance of winning again. 7 Adthemission returns after a break.

Did not trot well towards the end last time and was not at his best. Good position with a fast starting driver. 11 You to Tasty has done well in monté races lately. Also goes well for sulky and the form is there - should not be overlooked. 9 Kalas faded a bit last time after a tough start. Good finish as third the time before - an outsider.

15 Roubine made a mistake shortly after the start last time out. She's not the type to win many races in a row, but in an open race for fillies and mares she gets the first pick. 13 Bank Blow is a horse that knows how to win. However, she's a bit difficult to assess after the mistake in her seasonal debut and a shorter absence since then. She has the ability to compete. 12 The Rocket didn't perform as expected in her seasonal debut last Sunday. She looked mostly slow, but she may have benefited from the race. She's used to facing tough competition. 6 Our Pearl looks exciting. She finished well to take third last time out and looked clearly in good form.
