Auto 2140

10 Global Delight won three out of her nine starts as a three-year-old. As a mare, she's allowed to earn slightly more money than colts and geldings in this seasonal debut - our pick. 1 Barabobbitt is not reliable, but he has avoided a mistake in his last two starts. He is fast enough to be in the mix in this race. 4 Myrsjös Timeout was outstanding when he won three starts ago. He has a good position behind the gate and should be considered early in the race. 3 Quantity of Time has taken a few months off - he should be seen as one of several outsiders.

RACE 5, V64-2

Auto 2640

4 Goodwin Zet is making his season debut. He won in his second start with an impressive time of 1.14 and will be interesting to follow as a four-year-old - he's our pick. 9 I am Timmie is capable of better than he showed last time out. He had a comfortable win against slightly easier company two starts ago. He should be in contention for a place. 10 Ziroshi is better than his recent results suggest and didn't seem tired when he galloped at the beginning of the home stretch last time out. He's worth keeping an eye on. 5 Marre Vox got locked in with energy left two starts ago and is probably not far from taking his first win.

RACE 6, V64-3

Volt 2140

4 Yuvraj ended last season by getting locked in with energy left in a V75 race. This number four is tricky in the circular start, but without a mistake, he should have a decent chance to win. 5 Global Dazzle likes to run in the lead. It's not easy to get there from post five, but he'll likely be in the mix regardless. 9 Queen Tresher galloped in her season debut, making her a bit difficult to predict. However, she has the speed necessary to compete in this race. 10 Djang Limit has been on a few months' break. One out of many contenders but needs some racing luck.

RACE 7, V64-4

Auto 2140

3 Rönningsgutten is in great shape and has scored a couple of excellent victories lately. He took the lead early in his last race and set a fast pace, making him our pick. 5 Kavaleren lost a lot of ground due to a mistake in his last race but made a strong comeback a bit behind the winner. He has speed and could do well if he stays focused. 6 Björlifanner is in good form. Although he doesn't win very often, he's always worth watching behind the favorite. 8 Guli Roy is making his first start for Gunnar Melander. He may need a race to get back in shape.

RACE 8, V64-5

10 Epimetheus is consistent and good, but he doesn't win very often. He won his seasonal debut last year and is the top pick. 8 Parveny was very strong when he won in the lead on October 13th, but had a couple of questionable performances after that to end the season. 9 Filippa B.J. didn't have her best day on December 28th, but she can usually finish strongly if she gets a race in the right tempo. She could be good enough to win in her seasonal debut. 6 Krakas was unlucky last time out and finished with energy left in the tank. She is an outsider.

6 Stormyrans Erkki was allowed to dictate the pace from the lead in his last race and won comfortably. Driver Kontio is also known to be offensive. 15 Sol Storm set a new personal best time over the short distance in his last race, showing good form. Still not completely reliable, but a contender if he keeps performing well. 1 Skeie Trym had to do the work in the third lane over the final 850 meters in his last race and was brave. Better number this time. 5 Eldida hasn't raced since November. She is a type of horse that we like and should be followed here.
