5 Megan di Quattro finished 11.5 in teh last run and did well. Has good speed for this company - her first win might come today. 8 Locale Boko has won six of 18 races. However, he lost form last summer and is now returning in a new stable after a long absence. 4 Heaven's Pace was impressive as second at Gävle in early February. He hasn't shown the same form since then, but the opposition here seems quite easy. 2 Scaino Horse has some ability, although he has been a non-starter afterthe last race. However, he has a good starting position and could be a surprise contender.

2 Gill Dings has changed trainers since the last race in October. The horse has good speed for the class, but did not always trot well last year - our pick. 6 Hagrid put in a decent race as third last time out and with a similar performance this time he should be considered early. 1 Quattro Pistona got locked in on the inside last time at Rättvik, and had energy left at the end. If things work out better this time, the first win could come. 3 Mery Bolden is not reliable, but has quite good speed when she avoids a mistake.

13 Blue Jay is our choice in this open race. She probably needed the last race after a long pause, and we consider her to be the best horse in the field. 3 El Presidente parked outside of the leader last time but lost a lot of ground in the end. He can do better and has a good starting position - a must-have for any ticket. 11 Sparkling Night earned over 100,000 SEK last year - a good achievement for this company. Is better than the results suggest and worth a warning. 5 I Will Survive won a couple of races last year and could cause a surprise with the right trip.

3 Skuggfaksen faces nice conditions here. He is a bit up and down, but if he could reach the front, he is possible. 9 Tim B. has had a couple of months' break after not looking at his best last time out. He stands long distances and must be counted on. 11 Hibo Bungal is in good shape. He galloped early in the race last time, but came back well after that. An upset with the right trip. 1 Py Bläsen is not reliable, but has good speed when avoiding a mistake. Could cause a surprise in that case.

7 Get Ready on Tour has got two races under his belt now and we consider him the best horse in this field. He was matched against tough company last year - our top pick. 13 Bang Boomerang is searching for the right form. He is capable of more than what he has shown lately and the competition now seems quite mediocre. He should be considered. 5 Secondary Stall has galloped a lot lately. If he would avoid a mistake this time, he is not out of this race. 3 Dior Ima could cause an upset with the right defensive trip and then finish fast at the end.

12 Golden Opportunity lost form last autumn, but before that she showed good speed and won three races. Now she returns after a break - our pick directly. 7 One Night Only was not far from winning last time out. Non-starter after that, but normally an early contender here. 9 Whispering Pines was quite heavily backed in a few V75 races last winter. Is better than the last results suggest and should not be forgotten now. 4 A Knight's Victory finished fast to second two starts ago. Could beat many opponents with the right journey.
