7 Ioana made a nice comeback last time and despite a long break, she won nicely from the lead. Even better now with a race under her belt. 4 Yanki Bar was back after winter training last time and she also won a race from the lead. Awkward post position now, but still a challenger. 11 Lex Lane gave a good indication of her form to score a surprise victory but has had some bad luck since then. Was held back by a tired rival last time. 5 Sounds Easy had a good season last year and should be respected in her seasonal debut. The post position is risky though.

7 One For All has been consistently good for a long time and has also managed to place well against tougher competition than what he faced today. It's time now! 3 Rajadhiraja is inconsistent but won from the lead last time and has a good number. 6 Blue Bell has been finishing well in every race lately and is a horse that delivers, but usually gets tough journeys. This small field is an advantage. 8 Malibu comes from a tough win and with stamina for the distance, we respect him. Worth considering.

1 Ingprins scored many victories in a row as a big favorite last autumn, and he is a fast horse who will be interesting to follow this season. Perfect number. 7 Per Jo made a move with more than half the race left last time and was a strong second against tough competition. In good form and likes short races. 4 Bato Odina has had a good start to the season and has improved from last year. Good starting speed is a weapon, and faces nice conditions money-wise. 2 Slotts Tore disappointed last time, but performed much better in the season debut and benefits from the distance.

10 Mizai performed well in the V75 last year and has also started this season well. However, there is a question mark due to a recent fever after the last race. 4 M.T.Montpelier had a series of wins during the winter but has galloped a lot lately. With a drop in class, he could be a contender if he races without errors. 9 Google Sisu is good for this class and scored a good win recently. He is a strong contender and can do it tough. 1 Bombus Jet will be interesting to follow for the new trainer. With a race under his belt and a perfect starting position, he could be a strong contender.
