2. PARIMUTUEL BETTING RULES

The principle of the Pool Betting (Pari Mutuel) is that the winners are divided the issues cashed, by race and type of bet after deduction of the margin of the operator.

For some foreign races, the Mutualisation of stakes is operated by the racecourse. In this case some types of bets may follow specific rules described in chapter 3.

As a consequence, the probable winnings can vary. They are chosen according to the multiples of the stake (ex: 2 means that the Winnings are equivalent to twice the stake).

Winnings are always rounded off to the lower first decimal place.

A bet can be cancelled until 10 minutes before the theoretical start of the race. This one will then be paid off.

"CHANCE" Addition: You select one or more horses for your combination and "CHANCE" complete for you to reach the number of horses needed to perform a unit game (for example, you select 2 horses for a Ze5, and "CHANCE" will complete for you by designating the 3 additional horses).

By default "CHANCE" offers you a game of the minimum unit amount of the bet concerned. However, you can change this amount, within the limits of the floor and ceiling of the bet concerned.

Dead Heat:

In the event there is a dead heat, ZETURF will calculate the Winnings as follows: In the event there are several horses finishing first, the amount of all the stakes on the horses that can be paid is taken from the pool. The rest is divided by the number of horses that finished first. Then, each part is divided again by the number of stakes on each horse. The quotient, increased by the unit stake, represent the innings for each horse that finished first.

In the event there is a dead heat:

The "Single - Win" bets on every horse that finishes first will be paid according to a Win Winnings.

For all ZETURF bets, bets will be refunded if there are no winning bets, with the exception of the ZE5 for which the mass of stakes is carried over to the next day's ZE5 stakes mass and so on. if the situation is repeated several times in a row.

ZETURF Vertical bets (ex ZETURF grid) :

Principle of a vertical bet:

A "Vertical Bet" is for the player to find winning combinations on an identified list of Races. To form a vertical bet, ZETURF selects on a day the support races of the game and the type of bet requested on each race.

Bets and winnings:

The minimum base bet of a vertical bet is 0.5 € for the "DAILY" and 0.2 for the "MAXI"

The win is the sum of the bets allocated the redistribution rate divided by the number of winning bets. A bet is considered a winner if it includes all the winning combinations requested on the races presented on the vertical bet.

ZETURF reserves the right to guarantee a minimum total gain.

The bet on a vertical bet remains open until the start of the 1st support race of the game.

The payment of the winnings is made after the registration of the arrival of the last race.

Game mode:

On each race presented on the vertical bet, the player selects the desired winning combination and chooses one or two reserve horses in the event of a non-runner.

If the player does not select replacement horses (or not enough) or if the replacement horses are themselves non-runners then the reservist horses selected by ZETURF will apply (the list of reservist horses chosen by ZETURF is posted on the site from the start of each race).

Particular case:

* In case of absence of winner >>

If no player wins, the sum of the bets is fully carried over to the next vertical game with the same number of races.

* In case of Dead-Heat >>

The win is the same for all winning bets, even in cases where there are multiple winning combinations for a given race.

* In case of non-runners >>

In the case of non-runners, these are replaced in the combinations played by reserve horses chosen by the player or failing which chosen by ZETURF applies

If there is a non-starter horse in the combination validated by the player, then the first selected reserve horse completes the combination.

For example: I validate a Reverse Forecast 1-2, with first complementary horse 3 and second complementary horse, 4. Horse 1 is a non-runner. My Reverse Forecast will therefore automatically become 2-3 in that order.

In case there is a second non-runner in the validated combination, then the second reserve horse will in turn complete the combination.

For example: I validate a Reverse Forecast 1-2, with first complementary horse 3 and second complementary horse on 4. Horses 1 and 2 are non-runners. My Reverse Forecast will therefore automatically become 3-4 in that order.

* In case of cancelled race >>

If two or more races composing a DAILY vertical are cancelled, then all bets are refunded.

If three or more races composing a MAXI vertical are cancelled, then all bets are refunded.

ZETURF Questions:

Principle of "ZETURF Questions":

ZETURF Questions bets consist of finding the winning answer from a list of answers predefined in advance by ZETURF. The proposed question can relate to one or more races serving as a support.

Stakes and winnings:

The basic bet is 1 euro.

The payout is the amount of the player's winning bet multiplied by the dividend. The payout is defined as the sum of the bets on the ZETURF Question, affected by the redistribution rate, divided by the sum of the winning bets.

Ratio = (Sum of bets x payout ratio) / sum of winning bets.

Win = winning bet x dividend.

Cancellation Conditions: The player can cancel his bet on a question up to 10 minutes before the start of the first race supporting the ZETURF question.

Game mode :

ZETURF will be able to offer several types of questions:

§ Questions about jockeys / drivers / trainers (duel or exhaustive list). The bet consists of predicting the name of the jockey/driver who will win the most races over the entire event. Betting can come in two forms:

- o The designation of the winner of a duel between two jockeys / drivers / trainers selected by ZETURF; Where
- o The designation of a winning jockey / driver / trainer from an exhaustive list offered by ZETURF;

§ The questions on the age of the horse consist in finding, among a list of proposals, the exact age or the age group of the winning horse.

§ Questions relating to the sex of the winning horse consist of finding the sex of the winning horse.

§ Questions relating to the number of victories of a jockey/driver/trainer consist in finding the number of victories of the latter on a meeting

Special cases :

§ If on all the races serving as support, no horse meets the characteristics of one of the answers proposed by ZETURF then the stakes are refunded. If only one of the answers remains possible, then the bet is canceled and the stakes are refunded.

§ In the event of a dead hit in first place, the two horses in the lead are considered as winners of the race serving as support.

§ If all the races serving as support for the question are canceled then the bet is also canceled and the stakes are refunded.

§ In the event that there is no player who has found the winning answer, the stakes are refunded.

§ In the event of an editorial problem concerning information relating to a jockey / driver / trainer, the age or the sex of a horse, the authentic information is that present on the ZETURF sites and applications.

§ In the case of a change of ride, if a jockey / driver / trainer proposed by ZETURF as an answer does not start the race(s) serving as support, then the stakes on this answer will be refunded. In the case of a duel question between two jockeys / driver / trainers, if one of the two jockeys / drivers / trainers does not take part in the event then the question is canceled and all stakes are refunded.

§ In the case of a question about the number of wins of a jockey / driver / trainer, if one of the horses concerned is a non-runner, then the question is canceled and all stakes are refunded.

3. Specific rules / Mutualization on foreign racecourses

The Ante-Post consists of determining, long (up to several weeks) before the race in question, which horse will participate AND win the said race. The Bet (a Single Win or a Single Placing) is Mutual, which means that the odds are subject to change until the session is closed. No cancellation will be possible. No refund will be made in the event of a last minute Non-Runner or if the selection does not participate in the event, for whatever reason.

If the race has between 8 and 15 runners at the start of the race, the first 3 places are paid

If the race has 5 runners or less at the start of the race, the bet is refund

Reminder: The number of Runners is the number at the start of the race

Placed Dual Forecast / Swinger (JP)

If the race has 6 runners or more at the start of the race, the first 3 places are paid

If the race has 5 runners or less at the start of the race, only the first place is paid

Reminder: The number of Runners is the number at the start of the race

3.3 Sweden (ATG) : Vertical Bets

Shared races on foreign racetracks are reported on the ZETURF website

Definition of terms:

The term 'vertical bets' are "Grid" type bets: means that the player client tries to predict the winning horses over 4 to 8 races depending on the type of vertical bet (V4, V5, V65, V64, V75, GS75 and V86, the definitions of which are given below). 'Vertical bets' are offered on ZETURF sites in partnership with ATG, a horse betting organization based in Sweden, which defines support races for each type of vertical bet. The different support races of the vertical bet will then be called 'Legs'

To bet on a vertical bet, the customer's game ticket must be validated by both ZETURF and ATG, this validation takes place upon registration of the bet and in any event before the closure of bets from the race .. For your information, this vertical betting regulation contains the rules defined by ATG on the site www.atg.se. In any event, only these ZETURF rules in French govern the betting contract with the player.

Bets and Winnings

For each 'leg' making up the vertical bet, the client must choose one or more horses on which they wish to bet.

If a client selects a single horse for each 'leg' then the bet covers a combination. If a client selects more than one horse in one or more 'leg' then this bet contains several possible combinations and the bet is called a 'multiple bet'. The number of winning combinations in a multiple bet is determined by the number of winning combinations individually.

The number of combinations in a 'multiple bet' is determined by adding the horses selected by the client in each of the 'leg' and then multiplying the number of selections on each 'leg' between them via the following formula:

- number of combinations played = number of selections 'Leg 1' x number of selections 'Leg 2' x ... x number of selections 'Final Leg')

The amount of the bet is then calculated by multiplying the number of combinations by the amount of the unit bet defined by the player.

Winnings are displayed for the amount of the unit bet.

ZETURF reserves the right to guarantee a minimum total gain, at least equal to the unit bet

Replacement horses

A replacement horse is a selected horse, but entering the combination played only if and only if a horse in the original combination is declared 'non-runner'.

For each 'Leg' in addition to the client's selections, up to two other horses can be selected as replacement horses by the client after having defined an order of priority between these 2 replacement horses.

When validating the game ticket, these replacement horses will not be counted in the calculation of the number of combinations played and in the calculation of the stake.

After closing of the bets, ZETURF / ATG communicates on the site www.ZETURF.fr a list of default replacement horses for each of the support legs of the vertical bet, as well as an order of priority per horse. The default replacement horses are used to replace horses declared non-runners if the player has not chosen replacement horses himself or if those he has chosen are insufficient to replace all horses declared non-runners. starters.

ZETURF / ATG designates as default replacement horses the horses most often bet (in decreasing order of occurrences on this type of bet and in this race).

Activation of replacement horses

If a horse in the combination played is declared non-runner, then the replacement horse selected by the customer with the highest priority will automatically enter the combination played in place of the non-runner horse.

If the client has not selected a replacement replacement horse on the leg or the number of replacement horses chosen by the client is insufficient or that all the replacement horses selected by the client are themselves declared non-runners, the non-runner of the client's suit will be replaced by the 1st horse from the ZETURF / ATG list of available replacement horses (according to the order of priority defined by ZETURF / ATG).

Cancellation of a 'vertical bet' bet

A vertical bet game ticket cannot be canceled on the initiative of the client once it has been registered and validated by ZETURF.

Calculation of gain in case of dead heat

In the event of dead-heat in the first place in one or more Leg the calculation of the number of shares of Odd going to a winning customer who has planned more than one of these horses is carried out by multiplying the Odd by the number of horses winners selected by the client in each Leg.

Race to resort or postponement of the race

If a race is run or held at a later date, then the result of that race will be included in the bets.

Cancellation of a Leg, Leg declared void and Leg abandoned

If a leg is canceled, declared void or interrupted without being postponed (scheduled to be run later), the results of the other legs are decisive in determining the outcome of the bet. The horses chosen on this leg are considered as the winner. If all the heats are in this situation the bets are refunded.

The same provision will apply if a race is declared null or if no horse crosses the finish line as winner. A winning client, who has made two or more selections for such a leg, will be allocated an equivalent number of shares.

Deletion of one or more legs

For the vertical bet V4, if more than one leg has been canceled or, in the case of other categories of vertical bets, more than two legs have been canceled during the competition day and if these legs cannot be used or postponed to a later date, then bets will be canceled and stakes will be refunded.

Vertical bet 'V4'

The term 'V4' refers to the vertical bet category where the client attempts to predict the winning horses in four races held on the same racetrack on the same day. In V4 bets, the support races are designated legs and numbered 1 to 4.

Minimum bet

The minimum bet for the vertical bet 'V4' is 0.24 €

Winning combination

A combination is declared as winning if it contains the 4 winning horses of the 4 legs constituting the V4.

If no combination containing the winners of the 4 rounds of V4 has been played, the combinations played containing the winners of 3 legs will be declared as winners or failing this the combinations played containing the winners of 2 legs will be declared as winners and so on . If no winner, the stakes are refunded.

Calculation of the odd

In a V4 vertical bet, the odd is calculated by dividing the net total of bets by the total of winning bets.

Vertical bet 'V5'

The term 'V5' refers to the vertical bet category where the client tries to predict the winning horses in 5 races held on the same racetrack on the same day. In V5 bets, the support races are designated legs and numbered 1 to 5.

Minimum bet

The minimum bet for the vertical bet 'V5' is 0.12 €

Winning combination

A combination is declared as winning if the latter contains the 5 winning horses from the 5 legs constituting the V5.

If no combination containing the winners of the 5 rounds of V5 has been played, the winners of 4 legs will be declared as winners and failing this the combinations played containing the winners of 3 legs will be declared as winners and so on. If no winner, the stakes are refunded.

Calculation of the odd

In a V5 vertical bet, the odd is calculated by dividing the 'net' total of bets by the total of winning bets.

Vertical bet 'V65'

The term 'V65' refers to the vertical bet category where the client attempts to predict the winning horses in 6 races held on the same racetrack on the same day. In V65 bets, the support races are designated legs and numbered 1 to 6.

Minimum bet

The minimum bet for the vertical bet 'V65' is 0.12 €

Winning combination

A combination is declared as winning if the latter contains the winning horses from 5 or 6 legs constituting the V65.

Calculation of the Odd, Jackpot, Carry over of funds

The calculation of the odds is carried out as follows: in V65 bets, the net total of stakes validated on the vertical bet is divided into 2 as follows:

- 50% is allocated to combinations of 6 winning horses
- 50% is allocated to combinations of 5 winning horses

The sums thus obtained will be distributed among the numbers of winning combinations in each group of respective Odds.

In cases where the amount of the theoretical report, calculated by combination in the group of reports '5 winners' is lower than the Minimum Payable Report, then the bet is considered as losing. The Minimum Payable Report is set by the Swedish regulatory authority. The Minimum Payable Report for Vertical Paris 'V65' is set at 2.4 € (two euros 40 cents),

By virtue of the provision set out in the preceding paragraph, the sums exempt from payment will be placed in a kitty; in the same way, if there is no winner in one or more report groups for 5 or 6 winners, then the mass played will also be transferred to a prize pool; ZETURF / ATG will then pay the prize pool (s) for '6 winners' in a V65 bet, organized within the following twelve months, which will be offered by ZETURF to its bettors.

Once the kitty (s) are allocated to a V65 support meeting, this decision cannot be changed.

If there is no winner in one or more Odd groups for 5 or 6 winners, then the mass placed will be carried over to the Odd group for "6 winners" in a V65 bet held within the following twelve months.

Vertical bet 'V64'

The term 'V64' refers to the vertical bet category where the client attempts to predict the winning horses in 6 races held on the same racetrack on the same day. In V64 bets, the support races are designated legs and numbered 1 to 6.

Minimum bet

The minimum bet for the vertical bet 'V64' is 0.12 €

Winning combination

A combination is declared as winning if it contains the winning horses of 4, 5 or 6 legs constituting the V64.

Calculation of the Odd, Jackpot, Carry over of funds

The calculation of the odds is carried out as follows: in V64 bets, the net total of stakes validated on the vertical bet is divided into 3 as follows:

- 40% is allocated to combinations of 6 winning horses
- 20% is allocated to combinations of 5 winning horses
- 40% is allocated to combinations of 4 winning horses

The sums thus obtained will be distributed among the numbers of winning combinations in each group of respective Odds.
